The Illinois Power Agency has received one question by email regarding this Request for Proposals.

Below is the official Agency response.

Question:

In previous procurements has confidential bidder information been submitted via email or through a website? If through a website; does ComEd, Ameren, or IPA maintain a website for the submission of confidential bidder information; or would the maintenance of such a website be the responsibility of the Procurement Administrator?

Response:

In previous procurements, confidential bids were submitted using a secure website maintained by the Procurement Administrator.
